*You are given notice that you may, in the future, face civil liability and/or criminal penalties for your failure to meet the contractor licensing requirements of Chapter 41 of Title 43 of the Georgia Code despite the fact that you have represented to the Community Development Department that you are eligible for an exception. In addition, there may be other penalties which apply to knowingly or deliberately making a false statement to a governmental agency. The Community Development Department, by accepting this Affidavit Concerning Exemption to Licensing Requirements, does not investigate the facts to which you have sworn or confirm that your statement is sufficient to meet the requirements of state law. You are hereby advised that you must consult your own legal counsel if you have any question about whether you are eligible for an exemption to the contractor licensing requirements of Chapter 41 of Title 43 of the Georgia Code, the consequences of executing this Affidavit, or any other matter related to your application.
